

Dear I-751 Petitioner,

You may share the sample affidavit on the following page with friends, family or religious leaders that want to write a letter of support to be filed with your Form I-751 petition.

An affidavit is basically a sworn letter; the person who writes an affidavit is an affiant. The affiant swears to its truth and may be required to testify before an immigration officer in some cases. It's recommended that you submit two affidavits to support the primary evidence that your marriage was entered in "good faith." Select people who know you well as a married couple. The affidavit letter must include the following information:

- Person's full name, address, date and place of birth
- Relationship to the couple (i.e. friend)
- How the person came to know the couple
- When and for how long he/she has known the couple
- Frequency that the person sees the couple (i.e. monthly)
- Date and signature

The affidavit does not need to be notarized. However, it's helpful to include a statement that swears to the letter's validity, "I swear, under penalty of perjury, that the foregoing is true and correct to the best of my knowledge."

The following page includes a sample affidavit to be used as an example. Do not submit the affidavit on the following page without updating the address and content to fit your specific situation.

Please refer to your custom filing instructions from CitizenPath for the USCIS mailing address, filing fee and more examples of documents that can be used to provide evidence.

Sincerely,

Subject: Affidavit Letter of Support for Edward & Jessica Johnson

Dear USCIS Officer,

I am writing to confirm that I have known Edward Johnson since March 2009 when he moved in to the apartment next to mine. In the spring of 2010, Edward and Jessica got married, taking up residence together in the same apartment. In the following years, my wife and I socialized with them on multiple occasions. We have gone out to dinner and had several movie nights.

Edward and Jessica Johnson have remained our friends since moving to their new home in August 2011. We even helped them paint some of the bedrooms. They appear to be in love and happier than ever. They've also shared their desire to have children in the near future. I anticipate their marriage will remain a lifetime commitment.

Thank you for the opportunity to share this information with you. Please contact me at (714) 555-1212 if you require additional information.

I swear, under penalty of perjury, that the foregoing is true and correct to the best of my knowledge.

Sincerely,

John Smith
